Gettysburg's recreation needs are assessed again.

BELIEVE TOWN IS IN NEED OF PLAYGROUND AND PAID DIRECTOR

Gettysburg needs a comprehensive community recreation program will a full time director. This is the consensus of opinion of the joint committee comprising representatives of the town council, the school board and the Gettysburg Recreation committee reached at a meeting of the group in the YWCA Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Members of the joint committee were in agreement, as expressed at Tuesday's session, that the town needs a complete, all-year recreation program and that something should be done on a well organized basis. It was emphasized that there is an expressed willingness on the part of the community to finance such a project if there is sufficient cooperation.

Call Town Meeting

Reports were received from several communities in the state where a full time recreation program is in force under joint sponsorship of the town and the school system as authorized by state law.

The local committee decided to invite the executive director of the Sunbury Community Recreation Board to come to Gettysburg to address a community-wide meeting in the interest of the local program. The town council, school board, representatives of civic and fraternal groups and all other interested parties are invited to attend the meeting. The date will be announced in the early future.

Those present at Tuesday's meeting were: George March, Mahlon P. Hartzell, Sr., Charles Bender, Dr. Lloyd C. Keefeauver, Ralph Oyler and Dr. Dwight F. Putman. Two members of the committee were unable to attend.

Mrs. Fitch was attired in a woven Mexican blouse, a red and white Indian skirt, taken from the piece of material woven by the Indians for Lana Turner and Tyrone Power and used in a recent movie, a concho belt and silver and turquoise ear rings, bracelets and rings.

Going To Hanover

She gave many interesting accounts of experiences among the Indians and she stated that when handled in an understanding manner they make very staunch friends and pleaded that the American people study more about them so they may help the Indian children to grow up in conditions to which American children are entitled.

Fourteen members of the club will go to Hanover on Thursday night to attend the neighbor club's formal birthday celebration at the Hotel McAllister.

Other officers chosen were: Reporter, Clifford Rice, Apple City chapter; Biglerville; treasurer, Richard Lings, East Berlin chapter; sentinel, Nelson Rotz, Chambersburg; chaplain, John Thomas, Path Valley chapter, Fannettsburg.

Agree To Try Two Actions Together

By stipulation of counsel, an action brought by Roy D. Shanebrook, Bonneauville, against Bernard E. Small, New Oxford, will be tried jointly at the April term of court here with an action brought by Small against Shanebrook's son, LeRoy Shanebrook. Both are actions in trespass growing out of an automobile accident north of McShershtown on September 1, 1946.

Papers filed in the prothonotary's office show that the Small vs. Shanebrook case was listed on the January court calendar. The second action, in which the senior Shanebrook is suing Small, was entered too late to be included on the April calendar, except by the stipulation. Automobiles operated by Small and LeRoy Shanebrook collided at a road intersection in Coneyago township. Attorney Eugene V. Bulleit represents Small, and Attorney Daniel E. Teeter appears for the Shanebrooks.

New shelves have been installed making more space for groceries. New bread and cake racks have been placed.

Weather Forecast

Fair and not so cool tonight. Thursday mostly sunny and warmer.

Gettysburg Will Operate On Daylight Time, Sunday

Gettysburg will operate on Daylight time beginning Sunday morning, according to a survey conducted by The Gettysburg Times today.

The industries of town (none having announced to the contrary) Protestant and Catholic churches, public and parochial schools, the merchants and The Gettysburg Times as well as the college and seminary will operate on fast time beginning, officially, at 2 a. m. Sunday.

No merchants have announced that they will operate on standard time the Chamber of Commerce announced today.

Judge Sheely announced the hours for the April term of court, which begins on Monday, as follows: Monday morning the court will convene at 9:30 o'clock Standard time, (10:30 Daylight Saving Time). The reason for this is that the jurors had been previously informed that court will convene at 9:30 o'clock Eastern Standard Time. In order to avoid any confusion court will convene at that hour which is 10:30 o'clock Daylight time. Court will adjourn the morning and afternoon session on Daylight time. Beginning Tuesday the court will operate on Daylight time.

Court house offices will also operate on Daylight Saving time, that is, offices will open one hour earlier. Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler said that he had not been instructed as yet to change to Daylight Saving time. The local post office operated on Standard time last year.

Here And There News Collected At Random

A bill before the Pennsylvania Legislature, although conceived with good intent by its sponsors, House members from Philadelphia county, would strike a heavy blow at the freedom of the press if it is passed. It is House Bill No. 872 and deals with publication of reference to race, color or religion.

The measure provides a penalty of $500 on any newspaper, periodical, publishers, editor or reporter participating in any publication which would . . .

"Describe or identify the site of the commission or alleged commission of any crime by reference to the race, color, religion or national origin of the owner, proprietor, or occupant thereof, or describe or identify in terms of race, color, religion or national origin the district or locality of the commission or alleged commission of any crime."

The sponsors of the bill, no doubt, had good intentions when they prepared the proposed act but they apparently do not realize the full effect of the measure upon newspapers.

If the measure is enacted into law The Gettysburg Times, for instance, would be prohibited from publishing these phases in articles or headlines:

Italian janitor kills Lutheran preacher.

Negro shot in Catholic church.

Orphan slain in Jewish home for crippled children.

German Ambassador slain in Japanese Embassy.

Aged man fleeced by Russians.

Arabs break into Turkish harem.

Guns stolen from Irish immigrant building.

Redman slain in his own wigwam.

The Times also would be prohibited by law from printing the description of a fugitive, regardless of the crime he committed. We could not say that the fugitive was a Negro, Jew or Chinese. We could not publish his description which frequently results in the apprehension of the culprit.

Yet, the Bible is full of references to sites where crimes were committed and where the race or religions of the proprietor or occupant was described.

Police as well as publishers frown on the bill but culprits . . . are in favor of its passage.

GOING TO MEETING
Dr. Eugene Elgin, East Berlin, will attend the sessions of the Medical Service Association of Pennsylvania to be held in Harrisburg Thursday. Doctor Elgin is one of the directors of the association.

ATTORNEY WOLF NOW IS CIVILIAN IN WAR DEPT.

Charles W. Wolf, local attorney and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Guy Wolf, East Lincoln avenue, has recently been relieved from active duty with the Army Air Forces by Headquarters, European Command, at Frankfurt, Germany. Mr. Wolf, who was a first lieutenant and assistant staff judge advocate with headquarters, United States Air Forces in Europe, has accepted a position as a War department attorney with Air Forces Headquarters in Europe.

Wolf, last of Gettysburg's attorneys to be discharged from the service, completed fifty-seven months of active service, having been inducted in June, 1942. In December, 1942, he was promoted to sergeant at Kessler Field, Mississippi, where for thirty-one months he was chief investigator for the Provost Marshal. On March 9, 1945, he went overseas as an investigator with Military Intelligence. He was assigned to the Staff Judge Advocate's Office at Headquarters, Base Air Depot, United Kingdom, on August 1, 1945, and on September 18, 1945, was commissioned and made assistant staff judge advocate, which assignment he held until May 26, 1946, when he was made assistant staff judge advocate with Headquarters U. S. Air Forces in Europe.

Prosecuted Big Cases
During Mr. Wolf's assignments with the Judge Advocate's office in the United Kingdom and in Europe, he prosecuted, as trial judge advocate, thirty-six general courts-martial cases, all of which resulted in convictions. The cases included two of the longest Air Corps trials in the European theater, one ten weeks in London in 1946, and another eight weeks in Paris in 1946. The latter case was one of the Air Force's biggest smuggling cases, involving conspiracies by officers to fly diamonds, gold and perfume from the Middle East to France.

Pre-trial investigations of these cases and the trial of them took Lieutenant Wolf over most of Europe, North Africa and the Middle East, for a total of over 12,000 miles of air travel.

Following the expiration of his civilian employment with the army, Mr. Wolf will re-open his law offices in Gettysburg, which he closed in June, 1942.

Gregory M. Redding, 23, Killed Instantly In Auto Accident Near Mt. Newman

Gregory M. Redding, 23, Steinwehr avenue, a Purple Heart veteran of European infantry duty, was instantly killed Tuesday night at 11:45 o'clock when his car crashed into a truck 200 feet west of the Mt. Newman inn on the Chambersburg pike.

Robert Carter, 25, 2 York street, who also was in the car owned and driven by Redding, suffered a cerebral concussion, lacerations of the scalp and abrasions and lacerations of the face. Admitted to the Warner hospital in the ambulance, Carter's condition was described today as "satisfactory."

State Police men Robert Deitrich and James A. Treas, who with the county coroner, Dr. C. G. Crist, are investigating, today described the wreckage of the car as the "worst we have seen in years."

Struck Heavy Trailer

Deitrich said that the Redding car was headed east when it struck a truck trailer owned by Swift and company of Chambersburg and driven by A. Arthur Lehman, Chambersburg.

The Redding vehicle, police say, appeared to have been 30 inches over the center lane at the time the car and truck collided. The truck, police said, was "hugging the guard rails" along the road in an attempt to avoid the car.

After hitting the front of the truck, the car glanced off and then, apparently smashed again into the rear of the trailer, Deitrich added. After that it swerved to the south side of the road and hit an abutment. It then rolled end-over-end up a hill. The car traveled about 100 feet from the point of impact until it came to rest on its top pointed toward Chambersburg.

Victims In Wreckage

The two fenders on the left side of the car and the left rear door were torn off. The left front door was partially torn off. The top of the vehicle was battered and smashed and was crushed almost level with the top of the seats. Practically all of the glass was shattered.

Redding and Carter were found in the rear of the car, crumpled between the seats, the car lying on its top.

Coroner Crist said Redding's death was due to a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Damage to the car was estimated at $1,000 and to the truck at $400.

State police continued their investigation of the accident today.

In D-Day Invasion

Redding, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Redding, Steinwehr avenue, is survived by his parents; a brother, Leonard F. Redding, Gettysburg, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Crone, Camp Hill. He was a member of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, the local American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, and was formerly employed by the Adams County Novelty Company here.

He was inducted into the army February 8, 1943, and underwent basic training at Camp Howze, Tex.

After that he was attached to Company M, 341st Infantry and then was transferred to a machine gun outfit before being sent to England in March, 1944. In England he was assigned to an outfit with the First Division of the First Army.

He took part in the D-Day invasion on August 7, 1945, at St. Lo was wounded in the left arm and chest. Later he returned to his outfit and was wounded once more in Germany during the fighting there. He returned to the United States in September, 1945, and was discharged from Camp Upton on October 11, 1945. He was a sergeant.

STENCH BOMBS GREET SINGER

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—The aroma of stench bombs and boos filled the hallowed Academy of Music at the Kirsten Flagstad concert in what a music critic today described as the "worst demonstration" ever experienced at the academy.

The outbreak came at a concert given by the Norwegian soprano as pickets paraded before the academy with signs reading: "Flagstad preferred a Nazi regime—Don't play second fiddle—Stay out" and "Artists are not above judgement. We condemn Hitler! We condemn Flagstad!"

Four detectives met the singer at a train station last night and escorted her to the academy while others circulated through the crowd and 50 foot traffic patrolmen were on hand to keep order.

More than 1,000 persons were present when Mme Flagstad made her initial appearance on stage. She was greeted with a wild ovation which lasted more than a moment and her first selection was well received.

However, booing began and the first stench bomb was dropped in the loges. But Mme Flagstad's supporters were not driven out.

Ushers and detectives ejected two hecklers during the third and fourth numbers. Six more were thrown out as another stench bomb was dropped. No arrests were made.

Six-year-old Ann Armor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Armor, Eberhart apartments, has recently received a letter of thanks from a German family in the French zone of occupation, Ludwigshafen-on-the-Rhine, expressing appreciation for a child's pair of shoes. "It has indeed been much joy in our house during the last few days, since my wife was instructed by the Evangelical congregation to receive a package of clothes," wrote Victor Staehler, in German. The letter was translated after arrival here.

"The best and most valuable gift in this little package were your shoes, dear little Ann. In the shoes was the attached address, so that we must indeed assume that the shoes were sent by you for needy German families," the letter continued.

"I have a small boy of four years, named Peter. He was very happy about the shoes. . . . Perhaps this note in the shoes was a finger of God's. May we also hope that the passage of letters will prove fruitful for the better understanding of the customs and needs of both people."

EASTERN LOOP TO DEPEND ON PARENT CLUBS

Albany, N. Y., April 22 (AP)—With snow still piled outside some parks, the class A Eastern league today opened its 25th flag fight which stacked up as a running battle of chain baseball reinforcements.

The wide-open race was expected to attract more than the 1,054,878 fans who turned out in near-record numbers last season, when the Scranton Red Sox won the pennant by 18½ games and swept the playoffs.

Depending on a friendly nod from the weatherman, about 12,000 customers were awaited at these inaugurations: Wilkes-Barre at Scranton (8 p. m.); Hartford at Albany (4 p. m.); Elmira at Williamsport (3 p. m.); Binghamton at Utica (4 p. m.).

Little-Tried Talent
On Thursday, Scranton goes to Wilkes-Barre and Williamsport to Elmira. A day later Binghamton opens at home against Utica and Hartford against Albany.

None of the eight clubs is burdened with enough tried talent to be rated as a pre-season favorite. All the teams are either owned outright by or work closely with major league clubs, and ultimate pace-setters will be the outfits able to draw on the best sources of reinforcements during the campaign.

Largely for that reason, Eastern league writers have chosen Scranton and Albany, the 1946 first and second place teams, to repeat even though most of the second division teams shape up much stronger than a year ago.

The Scranton team is tied up with the Boston Red Sox, currently regarded as having the most productive farm system in the game. The Albany club, a wealthy independent has a working agreement with the revived Pittsburgh Pirates.

Gomez At Binghamton
On the other hand, the New York Yankee-operated Binghamton Triplets, last in 1946, appear much stronger under Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, beginning his first full season at the helm. The Yankees have not had a flag winner at Binghamton since 1938.

The re-christened Williamsport Tigers, a Detroit farm club, are rated a good darkhorse bet. They are expected to climb from the sixth-place tie shared last year with the Philadelphia Phillies' Utica Blue Sox.

The Elmira club is operated by the St. Louis Browns, Hartford by the Boston Braves and Wilkes-Barre by the Cleveland Indians. League President Thomas H. Richardson, hopeful for another attendance of 1,000,000, bases his optimism on a more equal distribution of talent and the fact that "all teams should be at prewar standard or better."

FELLER BLANKS BROWNS; PHILS LOSE TO GREGG

By JOE REICHLER

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

He's only 28 but Bobby Feller's lofty position in baseball already is such that hardly a year goes by now without the major league's strikeout king setting some kind of a record.

And even though the great Cleveland Indians' speedball artist missed almost four years of chances to move further into the record books—and these years right out of the prime of his life—because of wartime service in the Navy, Feller's position among the immortals of the game already is assured.

In his six full years and two part-time seasons in the big time, Feller has hurled two no-hit games and nine one-hitters—his latest the 5-0 blanking of the St. Louis Browns at Cleveland yesterday. Feller set a record for the big leagues last year when he reached eight one-hitters.

Other Records Set

The Van Meter, Iowa, phenom after tying the modern major league strikeout mark of 17 in one game in 1936, his first year in the big leagues, moved out in front by fanning 18 Detroit Tigers in a game two years later. He also set a league record for strikeouts in two consecutive games, 28; and tied another by whiffing six men in succession.

Feller's first no-hitter, April 16, 1940, against the Chicago White Sox, was the first of its kind in a season's opener and he added another against the New York Yankees last year.

Last year he established a recognized season mark of 348 strikeouts. Brooklyn's Hal Gregg yesterday held the Philadelphia Phillies to a mere safety, in shutting them out 1-0 at Ebbets field. The veteran Emil (Dutch) Leonard matched him almost pitch for pitch until the last half of the eighth when Jackie Robinson, the Dodgers' negro infielder, singled, stole second, continued to third on Catcher Andy Seminick's wild throw to head him off, and scored the all-important run on a single by Gene Hermanski.

Although they could wrangle only three hits off the combined pitching of Joe Dobson, Earl Johnson and Harry Dorish, the New York Yankees made them count to the utmost by shading the Boston Red Sox 5-4. Charlie Keller hit a three-run homer in the first inning and a run-producing single in the eighth.

Three of the Red Sox' nine hits off winning Pitcher Floyd Bevens were four baggers by Ted Williams, Sam Mele and Rudy York to account for all Boston's runs. York's blow, with a man aboard, gave the Sox a temporary lead in the eighth.

Eddie Miller, who hit only six home runs in 91 games last year, banged his fifth round-tripper in nine games this year, and added a run-scoring single in the 10th inning to give the Cincinnati Reds a 7-6 victory over the Cubs in Chicago. The heretofore punchless Reds

WARRIORS BRING 1ST TITLE TO PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—After a 16-year wait, Philadelphia today had a professional sports champion—the Warriors of the Basketball Association of America.

Joe Fulks and company put the clincher on the BAA playoffs last night with an 83-80 victory over the Chicago Stags to capture the title play four games to one in the best-of-seven series.

The basket-barraging Mr. Fulks, who hails from Kuttawa, Ky., hung up 34 points to establish a season total of 1,611, the greatest in recorded history and a mark which it may take decades to equal.

The Warriors' supplant Connie Mack's Athletics, winners of the 1931 American league's baseball pennant, as the most recent Quaker City title.

Come From Behind
Spearheaded by what some consider the best quarter of cagers ever to appear on one team—Fulks, Howie Dallmar, George Senesky and Andy Musi—the Warriors were forced to come from behind in the dying moments to upend the Stags.

Tony Jaros, who led the Stags with 21 points, parked a third period rally which overcame the Warriors' halftime lead and resulted in a 68-63 edge for the visitors as the final stanza opened.

But with Fulks leading the way, Philadelphia pulled to within two points with 10 minutes to go. Jaros, Minnesota university graduate who in the four previous games had scored only a total of 12 points rimmed four quick points.

Fips One-Hander
Fulks, Dallmar and Musi each caged field goals to put the Warriors ahead momentarily but the Stags' Chuck Halbert scored a pair of baskets while Fulks was rumbling fouls making the score 80-80 with one minute and 20 seconds to go.

It was at this point that the Warriors' ace playmaker, Dallmar, flipped a one-hander from 15 feet out to put the Warriors ahead for good. Ralph Kaplowitz added a foul.

The Warriors entered the final round with preliminary playoff victories over the St. Louis Bombers and New York Knickerbockers. The Stags defeated the Washington Capitals, who finished first ahead of the Warriors in the loop's Eastern division.

Victory for the Warriors meant a Memorial Field Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The drill will bring to a conclusion the spring training program for Coach "Hen" Bream's Bullets.

At present there are about 25 members on the local squad, a number of whom were on the jayvee squad last year. A number of "regulars" are not on the squad due to participation in other spring sports.

Rosters were approved and two umpire switches made at a meeting of the Adams County Baseball league Tuesday evening at the American Legion home on Baltimore street.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

I LISTEN!

I listen to the sounds of the day and the night—and they fill me with wonder. Wind sounds, traffic sounds, sounds of footsteps, sounds of boats on rivers, and those entering harbors. The very air is a mosaic of colorful sound—floating, ever floating, and alive.

I listen for the first calls of Spring-time birds, their joyful bursts of melodious music bathing the very ether that we take into our lungs from the blue of the sky. The echo of bells tingle in the ear, and stir memories that give peace and hope. The cry of the anvil in the blacksmith shop pays visits to us, and we talk with youth again.

The organ peals, and people rise and sing. It's the Doxology and it makes people feel humble and hopeful and grateful. Song does that when inspired from a reverent heart. Perhaps it is Easter and the sound of "He is risen" melodiously melts into the universal song of Nature at Springtime, with everything bursting into life—bud to bloom, color and fragrance. Or Summer, with every insect and bird giving forth its joy. Or Autumn with its aroma of ripening grain, carrying its promise of harvest in orchestral waves across fields and slopes. Or winter's melancholy song in storm. I listen to them all—and wonder!

The mockingbird, the robin, the rapturous tiny wren, the whippoorwill, the thrush—and the swishy song of the hummingbird after its honey—what miraculous interpretations of joy and appreciation—something to soothe the human heart, when heavy with grief or disappointment!

By listening we learn. All sounds have meaning. Walt Whitman wrote a great poem, which he called "A Song of Myself," and people have been listening to it ever since. Even the stillness of night, in the country is broken by sounds—the cricket's chirp, or the wash of waves, or no more than the touch of the wind to the branches of trees. How uncomfortable it would be with no sounds of any kind to which we could listen!

Tucked away in my memory I still hear my mother's voice, and the voices of all the beloved ones I have ever known. Tones of flutes, violins, and harps, still linger, as well. When alone, and at nighttime, I listen to them anew.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Distribution and Exchange."

MARBLE TIME
Wonder where the agates are
That I treasured years ago?
Some like opals with a star,
Others with a cherry glow.
Wonder are the boys today
Proud and glad as I was then,
As I watch them at their play,
Now it's marble time again?

As I passed some youngsters by,
On their knees, a ring about,
"No fair fudging!" come a cry,
Phrase I loudly used to shout.
Something deep inside of me
Took me from the world of men.
Boy once more I seemed to be.
Spring—and marble time again!

Set my finger and my thumb
Round an agate as of old,
Felt the long-passed yearning come.
For the skill I once controlled.
"No fair fudging!" did I cry?
Is it fancy that I pen?
Do such memories never die?
Now it's marble time again.

During the morning scholastic contests were held in the various grade rooms. In the afternoon the snow and rain prevented all outdoor activities excepting the high and broad jumping. Indoors, however, additional spelling matches and other interesting exercises were held.

During the noon hour a dinner was served, the proceeds of the affair going to the benefit of the High School Council fund. Mrs. U. S. Kleinfelter had charge and was assisted by the following ladies: Mrs. Elsie Heiges, Mrs. Wilmer Roth, Mrs. G. H. Krouse, Mrs. Albert Washington and Mrs. William Ryan. Approximately fifty dollars was realized on the dinner.

GREEK AID AND LABOR BILLS OF MIGHTY IMPORT

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Two of the most important measures this Congress will handle are in their last lap there now.

Both are more far-reaching than anyone at this time perhaps can tell. But together they show the mood of Congress at home and abroad.

The two are:
1. A bill to give $400,000,000 in aid to Greece and Turkey.
2. A bill to restrict labor unions.

From what has happened with those bills so far it is clear Congress is determined to stop the spread of communism abroad and to curb unions here.

The Senate passed the Greek-Turkish aid bill yesterday. Now it shuttles over to the House for a vote.

The House will approve, President Truman, who asked for the bill, will sign it into law.

Last week the House approved a labor bill, the toughest in history. And today the Senate was to start debate on a labor bill, also very tough.

Truman May Veto
But when Mr. Truman gets the finished labor bill he may try to kill it with a veto. It will be tougher than the one he wanted.

(Congress could pass it into law over his veto with a two-thirds vote).

But take a look at the two bills and what the future may hold if both become law.

The aid to Greece and Turkey—money and arms—starts this country on a new policy in foreign affairs.

It throws us into the internal doings of at least two European nations.

The purpose: to stop the spread of communism in Europe.

But once we start with Greece and Turkey, we may have to go on giving similar help to other countries which ask help against communism.

No one knows where that may lead us, or whether eventually it will mean war with Russia.

No End In Sight
So with the aid to Greece and Turkey we start a program but can't tell how it will end.

The Senate apparently thought this was a chance necessary to take so long as communism could be stopped.

As to the labor bill—

The congressmen who voted for this bill said strong measures are necessary to put some curbs on labor union activities.

Enemies of the bill talked this way:

It goes so far that it will, in effect, smash unions. They predicted the result would be chaos in this country.

(This is said in reference to the House bill, which is tougher than the Senate version.

Severest In History
(But the finished bill, when the Senate gets through, will still be the most severe labor bill in history).

So here again with the labor bill—as in the case of the Greek-Turkish aid bill—no one in Congress confidently can predict the outcome.

There's a good chance that, if Mr. Truman vetoes the labor bill, Congress can't get up the necessary two-thirds vote to make it law anyway.

In that case this present Congress may wind up the year without having passed any labor laws.

But the AFL isn't taking any chances. It's going to spend $1,500,000 on advertising to try to defeat the bill by raising a storm against it.

There are about 12 million bicycles in the United States.

Brothers Felled

By Rifle Volley

Pittsburgh, April 23 (AP)—A 36-year-old Heron hillman was shot to death and his younger brother wounded Monday night as the climax of an argument over a traffic accident.

The dead man was William D. Larkin, Jr., a plumber and father of two children. He was killed by a rifle bullet in the head. His brother, Richard, 21, shot in the leg, was not seriously wounded.

Superintendent of Police Harvey Scott said Howard Bey, 25, was held for questioning.

City Detective George Sibbets said the Larkin brothers were visiting at his home when stones were hurled against the house. When the brothers ran to the door, Sibbets said, they were met with a volley of bullets.

Superintendent Scott said it had not been established whether the Larkins were involved in the traffic mishap which led to the shooting or whether they were victims of mistaken identity.

WARDEN LAWES DIES SUDDENLY

Garrison, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—Lewis E. Lawes, 63, who for 21 years was warden at Sing Sing prison at Ossining, N. Y., and was one of the nation's outstanding authorities on prison problems, died early today at his home here.

Lawes had been seriously ill for 10 days. He died of a cerebral hemorrhage at 1:30 a. m. at his home Beverly House Farms, at this Hudson river community. He had retired from his post at Sing Sing July 16, 1941.

Mrs. Elsie Chisholm Lawes, his widow, and two of Lawes' three daughters by his first wife, Mrs. Joan Jacobson of Garrison and Mrs. Crystal Douvarjo of Ossining, were with him when he died. The third, Mrs. Kathleen Miller, was on her way here from her home in St. Louis. His first wife, Mrs. Kathryn Stanley Lawes, died in 1937. He remarried two years later.

While warden at the "Big House" at Ossining, Lawes virtually rebuilt the prison and instituted many novelties such as football games between the prisoners and outside teams. Their first was with the Port Jervis police team. Prison dramatic clubs also were permitted to perform for visitors from the outside.

Although he supervised more than 200 executions, Lawes was a founder and former president of the Society to Abolish Capital Punishment. He also was a former president of the American Prison Conference.

In 1850 there was not a mile of steam railroad anywhere west of the Mississippi river in the United States.

YOUTH SLAYS TWO COPS IN GUN BATTLE

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—A 23-year-old youth shot two policemen to death in a street corner gun battle early today, Sgt. John J. Creedon reported.

A detective officer who declined use of his name said the youth identified himself as William Hallowell and that he was the adopted son of a Northwestern university professor.

The spokesman said the youth, who was taken to Germantown hospital with four gun wounds, stated that his mother was divorced from Dr. Alfred I. Hallowell, former professor of anthropology at the University of Pennsylvania.

Follows Wild Race
The shooting followed a wild race through North Philadelphia streets as two patrol cars chased Hallowell in what Sgt. Creedon said was a stolen car.

In Chicago, Dr. Hallowell said he was "too shocked" to discuss the shooting. Before terminating a telephone interview, Dr. Hallowell said he has been living with his mother in Philadelphia.

BIG, NEW OVEN IS INSTALLED AT GETTIER BAKERY

A huge new oven, capable of handling up to 400 loaves of bread at a time, has been installed at the Gettier bakery in Biglerville, replacing the oven that has been used there for the past quarter of a century.

Roy Gettier, owner of the establishment, said today that the oven is one of a number of new machines planned for installation in the bakery within the near future, depending upon the availability of the machinery.

Workmen are engaged today in tearing out the old brick oven, removal of which will provide additional space for the placing of other more modern equipment.

The new Flex-O-Matic, traveling oven will permit the company to produce better bread, Gettier said, because it will permit more even baking for all loaves placed in it. Heated by gas, the oven has ten trays operating on a Ferris wheel principle. An electric motor turns the trays, which extend the full length of the oven, as they are filled, bringing the next tray to the door of the oven. In that way all bread is exposed to the same constant heat and the bread that is first placed in the oven will be ready to be taken out first when the baking is completed.

The oven stands about 14 feet high and is about 18 feet long and 12 feet wide. Its exterior is covered with porcelain.

O. P. House Buys Out Clyde Plank Business

O. P. House, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanton House, Bendersville, has purchased the Clyde A. Plank grain, flour, feed, coal and cement business in Aspers.

Vegetable Acreage Drops This Year

Indications now point to a somewhat smaller acreage of spring vegetables and melons this year than in 1946, says Herbert F. McFeely, extension agricultural economist of the Pennsylvania State college.

Estimates made to date, covering slightly more than 50 per cent of the total spring acreage, show an average of slightly less than 9 per cent under 1946, but 10 per cent above the 1936-1945 average.

the 1936-1945 average.

Acreages of summer onions and watermelons also are expected to be under 1946. As a result of freezes and heavy rains in Florida, winter vegetable production is about 12 per cent under last year, but 15 per cent above the 1936-1945 average.

At the same time McFeely notes a drop in demand for vegetables and suggests that for the coming season growers place emphasis on quality rather than quantity in production.

A kind of flour is made from cottonseed.

DDT POPULAR

Effectiveness of DDT as a killer of insects harmful to farm and garden crops is shown in the fact that a great majority of the 1,737 brands of insecticides registered with the state Department of Agriculture so far this year contain the war-developed compound, according to G. J.

Kuhlman, chief chemist in the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry.

Good Sires Used—Artificial breeding of dairy cattle permits greater use of outstanding proved sires, says R. H. Olmstead, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State College.

ADAMS APPLE IS ENLARGING ITS CANNING PLANT

If the group of young executives, most of them World War II veterans, who are now managing the Adams Apple Products corporation at Aspers have their way, canning will no longer be a seasonal job. In backing up their plans the corporation is spending $100,000 this year in new machinery, equipment and floor space and in addition plans to spend an additional $75,000 in repairs and maintenance of existing facilities.

So far this year they have worked their schedule out to a point where only about a six-week layoff will occur for many of the workers.

To Add More Products
With completion of an additional building, being constructed now of concrete block and steel and almost as large as the former plant, the group hopes to have room enough, storage space enough and cold storage age enough to be able to spread the work out over the year and thus have work for their employees all year around.

To do that will require not only making the plant larger but the Adams Apple Corporation will also have to expand its lists of products, taking on more materials to make more things so that the machines will continue to hum throughout the periods during which most canneries are now unavoidably out of operation.

When everything planned for the plant is completed, the establishment will be putting out three times as many products as it does now. S. W. Mann, Bendersville, sales manager for the concern estimated today.

Do Big Business

That trebled production should mean lots more income to the Adams county farmers and fruit growers. Last year the organization spent approximately $1,000,000 for the apples, cherries, strawberries and other products such as tomatoes that it bought from growers in the Adams county area.

The planned increase in production has brought about a number of changes, including even the parking system and the roads leading to and from the plant at Aspers. Even under the old system where trucks had to use the same road into and out of the plant the company

Sports Roundup

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 23 (AP)—Baseball is having a day for Babe Ruth Sunday and Ernie Lanigan has provided a flock of figures and facts about Babe's "firsts" to mark the occasion.

Ruth pitched his first professional game for Baltimore against Buffalo April 22, 1914. . . . In the first inning the Babe walked. Joe McCarthy, made a wild pitch, got mixed up with First Baseman Gleichenman on a pop fly and hit a batsman on the head. But he got out of that trouble and went on to pitch a six-hit shutout. . . . The next day he appeared as a pinch-hitter and hit a triple. . . . In all, Ruth stated 33 International League games for Baltimore and Providence and finished all but five of them. He also played four as an outfielder. . . . On July 10, 1914, the Babe played left field for the Orioles; the next day he pitched and won for the Red Sox against Cleveland. . . . When Jack Dunn sold the Babe, Ernie Shore and Ben Egan to Boston, the Federal league was grabbing players right and left. So Jack sent Billy Wickes along to guard the Athletics en route and Owner Jack Lannin rewarded Billy with $100 for safe delivery. . . . That $100 was the same amount as Ruth's first monthly pay check.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE
Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis and his featherweight (125 pounds) manager, Marshall Miles, are due here tomorrow to talk over that summer title bout some more. . . . Kentuckyans say crafty Adolph Rupp isn't even looking for basketball stars this year because he already has so many, but he still came up with Bob Koontz, 6-foot-4 all-West Virginia forward from Huntington. . . . The Lincoln, Neb., athletics of the western league have two six-foot-five pitchers and five others who stand 6-2 or better. Really, they're going to play baseball.

APPOINTS CLAYTON
Washington, April 23 (AP)—President Truman today nominated Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton to represent the United States on the economic commission for Europe. The commission was established by the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations. The appointment will not interfere with Clayton's duties as undersecretary of economic affairs, the White House said.

MORE STEEL TALKS
Bethlehem, Pa., April 23 (AP)—Adding credence to indications that the remainder of the steel industry will fall in line with the wage pattern set by "Big Steel," the Bethlehem Steel corporation announces it will resume negotiations tomorrow with the CIO United Steelworkers union. The U. S. Steel corporation has agreed on a two-year pact with the steelworkers granting a 15-cent an-hour wage boost.

LABOR GATHERS TO FIGHT BILLS
Harrisburg, April 23 (AP)—Thousands of union members thronged Legislative halls today to protest against enactment by the General Assembly of any strike control laws. The labor representatives gathered for a joint Senate-House hearing on Republican-sponsored bills to ban any form of the closed shop in union contracts, bar strikes by teachers and other public employees and set up a statewide conciliation service in labor disputes.

There will be 5,000 to 6,000 members of AFL unions here, forecast James L. McDevitt, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, who said he will oppose "with all energy" the bills set for the hearing. In addition, thousands more from unions affiliated with the CIO-Industrial Union Council were expected. The state CIO convention also opens here during the day.

Without bearing any administrative stamp and Republican leaders all announcing there will be no "repressive" or "punitive" legislation enacted against unions, the measures were selected by the Senate and House Labor committees from scores of bills on labor for consideration at the hearings.

All have received one legislative reading in either branch of the Legislature before they were sent back this week to committee for the hearings.

LAB SITE BATTLE BEING RENEWED
Washington, April 23 (AP)—A parliamentary battle between two Pennsylvania Republican House members was in the making today over the site of the government's $450,000 anthracite laboratory.

The question the House will be asked to decide is whether the institution, designed to find new uses and marketing methods for hard coal, should be in Hazleton, in the district of Rep. Mitchell Jenkins, or in Schuylkill Haven, in the district of Rep. Ivor D. Fenton.

Jenkins, Trucksville attorney, told a reporter he will "do everything possible" to have the institution constructed in Hazleton, the site selected by Secretary of the Interior Krug's Site committee and approved by Krug.

On Monday the House Appropriations committee recommended that that action by Krug and the Site committee be set aside and that the laboratory be built in Schuylkill Haven, the location which the committee said had been given preference by Bureau of Mines Engineers who surveyed 35 Pennsylvania sites.

The committee's recommendation, included in the Interior Department appropriation bill, came after months of protests by Fenton, Mahanoy City physician.

ADAMS APPLE IS PICK HOLLAND FOR '48 WORLD CHURCH MEET

last year set a record in which no truck had to spend more than 15 minutes at the plant.

The state is resurfacing and widening a road that winds over the hill from Aspers east of the plant. To that road the company is cutting another road so that trucks in the future will enter from one entrance, come directly before the government inspector, move from there to the unloading place and then travel directly out of the plant's property without ever having to turn around, back or otherwise get in the way of the truck following it. A new parking lot is also to be installed for some 200 cars that the employees drive each day to the plant.

Husky Youngster

Last year the company paid out approximately a half million dollars in wages. It was one of the first canneries in this section to put on three shifts during the early part of the war so that production could go on around the clock.

Youngest cannery in the apple section of the county, the plant has been operating here for 15 years. As Mann says, "it started off small and now has quite a sizable business and is now comparable to its competitors."

Have Bonus Plan

Because the corporation figures that its regular employees contribute as much to the business as anyone else, last year it established a bonus program. Paid off the first of this month the bonus system gave all of the employees a good sized amount and a few employees got as much bonus as they had earned in salary during the year.

Much of the work of increasing production and building up the plant has fallen on the shoulders of John S. Sauter, Biglerville, the plant supervisor; Robert Narona, plant manager; Berton Slinger, Gardner's R. D., the assistant plant manager; William Blair, Biglerville, comptroller; E. L. Mann, production manager, and Bud Parry, Bendersville, formerly of the Department of Agriculture, quality control.

The department heads are proud of the produce they are putting out, which includes canned apples, apple sauce, apple butter, apple juice, apple cider vinegar, tomato juice, red sour pitted cherries, frozen strawberries, frozen raspberries, frozen cherries, frozen apples and apple pumice for feed and jelly manufacture. Ordinarily the plant also makes jellies, jams and preserves, but the sugar shortage last year prevented the continuation of the jellies, jams and the like for the present time. They show federal inspection sheets on their products which show top grade ratings.

Fire Control System

One of the big jobs ahead of the company in its general modernization is the installation of an automatic fire extinguisher system that will eliminate all possible hazards in the area. The system, which the plant superintendent believes can be installed by the end of June, will cost $65,000.

The company's three brand names, Adams Apple, Adams Mold and D. Mann will soon be known from coast to coast. The sales force has been extended rapidly over the past

Buck Hill Falls, Pa., April 23 (AP)—The committee on arrangements for the first assembly of the World Council of Churches recommended today the conference be held in Amsterdam, Holland, from August 22 to September 5 next year, opening two days earlier than originally planned.

In a report widening the scope of the projected world Christian gathering, the arrangement group asked that the United Nations, UNESCO and the ILO be invited to send one "observer" each and that the council later be authorized to extend bids to "a few Roman Catholic individuals" to attend as "unofficial observers."

UNESCO and ILO are U. N. organizations. UNESCO is the United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization and ILO the International Labor Organization.

Additionally, it called for amendment of a section of the council's constitution "to permit appointment of a limited number of representatives in the assembly on a consultative basis because of their special competence in some field under discussion."

The recommendations were submitted to the council's provisional committee for decision today. The world council, currently representing 105 church bodies in 36 countries, is to be formally organized at the Netherlands assembly. It was first planned at Utrecht, Holland, in 1937.

Asked in an interview whether the council would affiliate with UNESCO, Dr. W. A. Visser T'Hooft, general secretary, said a report would be issued later on this matter, but added in his "private opinion":

"I regret very much that UNESCO

Delinquency Topic At Welfare Meeting

Altoona, Pa., April 23 (AP)—Juvenile delinquency was one of the main topics offered for consideration at the regional social welfare conference opening session, here today.

Speakers included Judge T. Weber Wilson, chief of the U. S. Federal Probate system; Mrs. Helen V. Kisby, national speaker of the Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Lora Sylvester of the Tri-County Child Guidance Council, Harrisburg, and Dr. J. Preston Sharple of the State Department of Welfare.

Petroleum Shortage Foreseen By Fall

Washington, April 23 (AP)—The National Petroleum Council says a shortage of petroleum products may become so severe next fall and winter that part of the navy's ships will be immobilized for lack of fuel.

One member even predicts that by autumn there will not be enough automobile gasoline to go around.

The reasons are record consumption of oil—now 5,650,000 barrels a day compared with the 1945 wartime high of 5,358,000 barrels—coupled with shortages of tank cars, tankers and steel for pipe lines and equipment.

has no religion department, I think it would be an extremely good thing, and it is one of the jobs UNESCO ought to do."

TOBACCO TAX PLAN CHANGED

Harrisburg, April 23 (AP)—State cigarette taxes will be boosted two cents a pack instead of one and a new levy on cigars and other tobacco products will be dropped from the administration's $133,000,000 tax program under a plan backed by Republican House and Senate leaders today.

Announcing that proposed changes in Gov. James H. Duff's tax plan for the next two years will increase revenues by another $5,200,000, House GOP leaders said the lower branch "is definitely" opposed to revision of expanded corporation levies approved by the House several weeks ago.

Duff was out of the city and unavailable for comment on the proposed tax changes but the governor conferred earlier in the day with both Senate and House leaders. Speaker Franklin H. Lichtenwalter (R-Lehigh), and Rep. Herbert P. Sorg (R-Elk), House majority leader, said the Republican caucus agreed on the tobacco tax changes because the cigar levy of one cent would "hit an essential Pennsylvania industry."

They said, however, that the House caucus rejected a suggestion of the Senate finance committee that the proposed ban on the carry-back or carry-forward of losses in calculating corporation net income taxes be postponed a year. As approved by the House, it is effective as of January 1, 1946.
